Website title:

Getting started with Dungeons and Dragons.

Description:

This should be a basic introduction to getting started with playing DnD.
The first section on getting started and the rules.
One section on character creation.
The next on basic rules and how to play.
And one for roleplaying your character.

Page names:

1. Home
2. Helpful resources
3. Store
4. About Us
5. Contact

Data being stored:

This will mostly consist of text and images for describing how to play.
There is also a potential here to have video integrated for some examples.
Depending on how much I am able to learn, I would add simulations as well to work as examples.
